Information about the Commission, who we are, where to find us, how to contact us, how we are managed and our external relations.

The Freedom of Information Act says that you have the right to know how organisations, like ours, that are funded from the public purse, make decisions and manage their resources.

- ☒ Mental Health (Care & Treatment) (Scotland) Act 2003
- ☒ Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000

A memorandum of agreement sets out the roles of the Commission and the Scottish Government and it outlines how the Commission is held to account for use of public funds. **Memorandum of Agreement; Scottish Government \(Health Directorate\) and The Commission**, signed 2018.

The National Confidential Forum, (the NCF) was established as a Committee of the Commission in 2014 under **The Victims and Witnesses \(Scotland\) Act, 2014**. and came to an end on the 28 June 2021 under the terms of the **Redress for Survivors \(Historical Child Abuse in Care\) \(Scotland\) Act 2021**. During its lifespan, the NCF was a committee of the MWC and did not exist as a separate legal entity from the Commission. The NCF's core function was to receive and listen to testimony from those who were in institutional care as children. The Commission remains the data controller of the records produced by the NCF.

There is a **Memorandum of Understanding** between the Commission and Scottish Government regarding the operation of the NCF.

The Re-use of Public Sector Information Regulations

What are the Re-use of Public Sector Information Regulations (RPSI)?

These regulations came into force from 18 July 2015 and establish the UK framework for the re-use of public sector information. The purpose is to make information easier to re-use, resulting in economic, social and civil benefits. They are an update to earlier regulations which encouraged public sector organisations to make information available for re-use. The 2015 regulations go further, and make it mandatory to make information available for re-use. As a public sector organisation, the Commission is subject to the RPSI regulations. In order to comply, we have adopted the Open Government Licence (OGL).

Open Government License

All the information on this website is available through the Open Government Licence. This gives you the right to re-use the information, subject to important conditions. The OGL requires people re-using information to acknowledge the information provider and/or source of the information with an attribution statement.

Attribution statements and acknowledgements

If you want to re-use other information, for example that we provided in response to a request you will find the following helpful:

The Commission does not have requirements with regards to equal pay and gender pay gap information as it has fewer than 150 employees.

- g) Additionally there is a requirement for the Commission as a listed authority to consider other matters which may be specified by the Scottish Ministers and a duty for the Scottish Ministers to publish proposals for activity to enable listed authorities to better perform the general equality duty.
